

Thompson Performing Arts Series at the Covenant Bank Amphitheater

Performer Application

The Thompson Performing Arts Series is presented by Doylestown Township and is held at the Covenant Bank Amphitheater in Central Park, Doylestown, PA.

The summer performing arts program provides a complement of performances that represent a variety of musical, theatrical and other genres with the intent of presenting Doylestown residents and visitors with the best possible free summer program. Over the years many local, regional, national and even international performers have presented a wide variety of cultural and artistic styles. It is only through the generosity of sponsors and performers that we are able to provide free family-friendly entertainment to approximately 10,000 residents and visitors annually.

Due to the high number of performer inquiries, we are asking those interested in playing in the series to submit a Performer Application.

All applications received will be considered, and if selected, a Performer Agreement and W-9 must be signed.

Sound equipment, lights and sound technicians are NOT included in performance contracts and must be provided by the artist/group.

All applicants will receive a response once bookings are complete. Applications NOT selected will be retained in the event of future opportunity.

Applications and support materials will be reviewed by a selection panel that will make recommendations for the Thompson Performing Arts Series. All applications will be evaluated according to the following criteria:

- Appropriateness (family friendly)
- Quality of support materials
- Ability to provide at minimum a 90-minute presentation
- Self-provided tech support including sound, instruments and other props as needed.
- Reasonable booking fees and related costs

Submission of the Application does NOT guarantee acceptance
